

“ERIN’S SHIP”

WALKING HOME FROM DANCE CLASS, Erin saw an odd cat. It was skinny and scruffy, and it had dingy gray fur. One of its narrow yellow eyes was permanently closed, and the open eye looked as if the cat was suspicious of something. Suddenly the cat turned its head, and those strange, shifty eyes looked right at Erin, and it flicked its tail as if motioning for her to follow. Curious, Erin followed the cat to a strange, magical-looking, tiny ship. The ship's entrance opened and . . .
